Numb. 11172.

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Tuesday August 20, to Saturday August 24, 1771.

Vienna, August 7.

THERE being no longer any Danger of Infection from Poland, the Austrian Troops, which formed the Cordon upon the Frontiers of that Country, are withdrawn.

Dantzick, August 10. As all Apprehensions of Danger from the Plague are ceased, the Precautions, which have hitherto been used to prevent the spreading of the Infection, are discontinued.

Brussels, August 20. In the Memory of Man never was such Weather known as we have had in this Country for these last three Weeks. Not many Weeks ago we had the greatest Appearance of Plenty; but at present, from the continual and excessive Rains that have fallen, and still continue, we have a most melancholy Prospect before us; and indeed, if this bad Weather continues but a very little longer, we have every Thing to dread. Prayers are offered up in all the Churches for fair Weather, and this Day the Processions will begin.

Hamburgh, August 16. The Waters are fallen ten Feet, eleven Inches; but, by Accounts from Magdeburg of the Height of the River there, we are apprehensive that, together with that and the Continuance of the Rains and Westerly Winds, the Waters will rise again over the Lands, which the Magistrates are labouring to free from the Inundation.
